

Surplus Sale

General information

The standard life of a computer here at Revver is 3-4 years. Once a computer surpasses that age it is kept on as a team or testing computer or it is sold to employees as surplus.

Computers sold to employees are sold at a price generally quite lower than any online price listed for an equivalent used computer. These computers have been wiped and are ready for use.

The best way to get the most recent information on surplus sales is to join the #surplus_sale Slack channel and ask questions there. Very few announcements pertaining to the surplus sale will be made via email so if you think you are at all interested in participating in surplus sales please make sure to join the Slack channel.

How the surplus sale works

- Join the #surplus_sale Slack channel and wait for any announcements.
- Login to <https://snipeit.revverdocs.com/account/requestable-assets> to view what surplus is available (if after you login it does not take you to the previous link, you can click on the computer icon to the very left of the screen to view requestable items).
 - 2022-10-31_14-59-22.png
 - The "Requestable" page will list each computer for sale with the specs, condition, and price.
 - Once you have found the item you would like to request, you can click on the "Request" button.
 - 2022-10-31_15-00-01.png
 - If you change your mind, you can cancel the request.

- Once you have made a request, a ticket is auto-generated and sent to IT. Once IT is ready to sell the item to you they will reach out and you can create an appointment to come into the office to purchase the item.
- We accept payments by check. Checks should be made out to "Revver."

Things to know before requesting an item for the surplus sale

- All items are sold "as is" and all sales are final. You can inspect the item before purchasing it. IT has done basic tests on each item being sold but they have not done extensive tests. It is up to you to determine if you are willing to accept the quality of the item being sold.
- Laptop batteries have not been tested. You should have the expectation that the battery capacity is not in peak condition.

- Laptop battery chargers will be given out with laptops as available. If a charger is no longer available with the purchase of a laptop, a link will be provided for you so you can purchase a third party charger and the overall price of the laptop will be reduced by $10.
- You are only allowed to purchase a single item at a time. Once you have completed the purchase of an item, you can make another request.
- Requests will be fulfilled in the order that they are made.
- We will not be shipping surplus sale items. All purchases must be picked up in the office.

All questions should be sent in the @surplus_sale Slack channel or you can email ithelp@revverdocs.com
