Information about TalentLMS Quizzes

We use TalentLMS for internal training. Some of our courses are created in-house and come courses are created by TalentLMS. Generally, the course library that TalentLMS provides has good content but the format of their quizzes can be problematic if you are not careful. Here is what you need to know:

Most quiz questions are multiple choice where you can select one answer. See example below:

Some quiz questions however are "Select all that apply" but the UI still shows radio buttons. This is a terrible user experience and I wish I could change it but I can't. For now, please just know that if it says "Select all that apply" then you will likely need to select more than one answer. See example below.
